talks about Print Futures*

“HipBiz Inc

is Vancouver’s fastest growing communication services company. We’ve hired several Print Futures graduates over the eight years we’ve been in business. Our first Print Futures grad blew us away. So when we needed more people, we went back to the source. They can do anything – from corporate communications to technical writing, or from gathering research to writing for different media. Their training allows them to be efficient, effective and adaptable – and that’s what we all need in these changing times.”
